Description

A French company specialized in poultry farming since 1977, n°1 leader in France for quails, is looking for innovative techniques to process poultry waste & by-products (feathers, blood, eggshells, dirt). The French company would be highly interested in specialty chemicals, pharma & cosmetics applications (rather than petfood or fertilizer applications). The French company already produces 500 tons per year of quail feathers (including 20% water, wings & legs), 85 tons per year of quail blood, 50 tons per year of quail eggshells, 550 tons per year of quail viscera, 240 tons per year of quail carcass, 2100 tons per year of quail dirt. The company is currently investing to double the current production capacity. Potential partners should be able to process additional volumes in the near future. Technical cooperation is sought.
